Integricare Ardill House North Strathfield

Integricare is a not for profit Christian organisation committed to providing high quality family and children's services since 1882. An exciting opportunity exists for a qualified Cook to provide for the needs of Ardill House North Strathfield centre. This is a great opportunity to use your professional skills to have a positive impact in the lives of children whilst you enjoy daytime work in a predictable, planned kitchen environment.

Accommodated in a purpose-built centre, our service at Ardill House North Strathfield provides an inclusive and individualised learning for children aged 0-5. The established, professional team work closely in a collaborative and reflective manner creating a positive and uplifting work environment. The Cook is a key member of this team, providing healthy meals and snacks that support the children's play, learning and development.

Naturally, you will have commercial cooking and menu planning experience along with the ability to understand and accommodate varying dietary requirements. Your commitment to quality starts with food handling and storage; and extends to planning, preparing and documenting menus around dietary needs, wellbeing and seasonal produce.

Childcare experience is not essential as your ability to prepare interesting and nutritious meals for large numbers will be your core strength. The sights and sounds of children exploring their world are central element of this workplace so a valid working with children check is an essential requirement as is your commitment to support the Christian ethos of the organisation. Knowledge of safe food handling practices and regulations is essential and formal qualifications as a cook will be highly regarded.

Working at Integricare, you will be part of an organisation with a strong heritage and commitment to excellence in all we do. You will be working with a passionate team of early childhood professionals under the leadership of a talented and dynamic Director.

We welcome applications from talented cooks with the ability and commitment to take on this rewarding role.
